Gwenllian Gill In A British Picture

FEATURE PART

Gwenllian Gill, the Edinburgh girl, who went to Hollywood under the Paramount banner as the result of her success in the "In Search of Beauty" competition, is to make a British film. She has been signed by Fox for a picture in London which is provisionally entitled "White Lilac."

Her contract provides for a feature part.

Production of the film was started recently at the Wembley Park Studios under the direction of Al Parker.

In addition to "In Search of Beauty," Gwenllian Gill appeared, while in America, in "Shock" and "Come On Marines."

It is announced in London that Miss Gill "will play a very important part in one of the most pretentious productions so far handled by British Fox studios at Wembley."

Miss Gill is to play second lead in "White Lilac," a story adapted from the Viennese play, others in the all star cast including Basil Sydney, Judy Gunn, Claude Dampier, of broadcasting fame, Percy Marmont, and Leslie Berrins.

"White Lilac" is being produced by Mr. Albert Parker, the famous American producer who discovered, among others, such world-famous film stars as Rudolph Valentino, William Powell, and John Boles. Mr. Parker has directed many notable productions starring Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks, Constance Bennett, and others. One of his big pictures, "The Black Pirate," featured Douglas Fairbanks.

"White Lilac" will take at least three weeks to produce, and it is expected that it will be ready for general release in from three to four months' time.

The Fox Company have great hopes for Miss Gill's future success on the screen. She is stated to be the first "unknown artist" to be chosen by an American film company operating in Britain.

THE PERSECUTED JEW

"The Eternal Wanderer," a Jewish film with a strong propagandist note, rather naive but obviously sincere, will be shown in London shortly.

It was made in New York, with the distinguished Jewish actor, Jacob Ben-Ami, playing the part of the Jew harried through the ages from Ancient Babylon and Egypt to present-day Germany.

Most of the story was made in the studio. But the picture includes three scenes said to have been snuggled out of Germany.

One shows the burning of Jews' books, a long procession casting volume after volume into a bonfire. In the second, hundreds of Jews run through the streets with Nazis in pursuit. The third shows a column of soldiers marching through the streets to a monotonous chant of "Jew! Jew! Jew!"

There is no reference to Herr Hitler.

"The Eternal Wanderer" was banned by the British Board of Film Censors, but has been passed without cuts by the L.C.C. for local exhibition.

JESSIE MATTHEWS AND U.S.

It has been recently reported that Jessie Matthews is about to take up a Hollywood contract. The Gaumont British Corporation makes it clear that this is not likely to happen in the near future.

In October she signed a three years' contract with the Corpora-

PREPARE and bake a flan case of short paste, and put into it a thin layer of some favourite jam. Cook two ounces of the best rice in three-quarters of a pint of milk until the liquid is absorbed, cool a little, and add two beaten eggs with sugar and flavouring to taste. Stir over a gentle heat until the eggs are cooked, cool slightly, and pour on to the jam. Serve cold.

NEW STUDIO OPENED

The new British Gaumont educational film studio in London was opened recently by Mr. H. Ramsbotham, Parliamentary Secretary to the Board of Education.

The Board of Education now make a grant of 50 per cent. to secondary schools and a 20 per cent. grant to elementary schools towards the purchase of cinematograph projectors. Already over 700 schools in Great Britain are equipped with projectors, but as there are over 4,000 secondary schools and more than 24,000 elementary schools in Great Britain the demand for educational films is sure to be greatly increased as more and more of these schools take advantage of this offer.

Gaumont-British educational studios have already turned out 62 educational films, and now that the new studio is completed they hope to turn out at least one film a week of an educational value.

ILLINOIS PLANNING LEGISLATION

RESTRICTING MARRIAGES

Chicago, Apr. 2.

The Illinois Legislature wants to make harder to get married and easier to get divorced.

As a side issue the legislators will consider the "racketeering" aspects of holy matrimony. In prospect is the outlawing of such dubious enterprises as breach of promise and alienation of affections suits.

If the "Heart Balm" suit is not thrown completely into the discard, as in New York, legislation concerning it may be so modified as to make polite blackmail less certain of profit.

Senator Richey V. Graham of Chicago is sponsoring four marriage reform bills prepared by Judge Rudolph F. Desort of Cook County.

Judge Desort's first concern is with marriage born of an alcoholic, rather than romantic, haze. He would grant Justices of the Peace the right to sleep undisturbed through the early morning hours by preventing the "gin marriage" and marriage "for a laugh." His bill would require three days notice of intention to wed.

Another bill would limit separate maintenance to two years, after which a couple would have to become reconciled or divorced.

Judge Desort's most unusual bill would strike at the heart of heart balm racketeers, and end the fear of publicity, by which out-of-court settlements are sometimes achieved. The proposed statute would conceal the identity of defendants in breach of promise or alienation suits unless a preliminary court hearing, held in private, established the reasonableness of the action.

The same safeguard, a private hearing, would protect persons named as co-respondents in certain types of divorce suits.

Representative J. M. Turner would prohibit alienation of affections suits altogether and Representative Frank G. Ring also.

Another measure, proposed by Representative Edward Sattler of Chicago, would require that a certificate of good health, obtained from a physician, be presented with each application for a marriage licence.—United Press.

BLACK MARLIN ON THE HOOK!

Exciting battles, in which five launches were engaged, resulted in the landing of two giant swordfish (the species known as Black Marlin) at Narooma, New South Wales, recently. One of them, which weighed 360 lbs. an Australian record, and which was 11 feet long and 6 feet in girth, was landed after a three hour struggle in a rough northerly sea.

Usually, a thousand feet of line is used to land the Black Marlin, the fisherman being harnessed to a swivel chair in order to play the fish more effectively.

Victorian anglers, however, are engaged with the problem of the deterioration of fresh-water fishing in recent years. They have asked the Government to appoint a biologist and to undertake a complete survey of all lakes and streams.

Faint whisperings are going about that an actor will soon be said to plucked, unnatural brows. It is only the faintest of whispers, mind you, for it will be months—maybe years—before the "die-hards" forsake the fashion.

Women have learned that it pays (in the good old coin of chic) to improve on nature—and not to distort it.

Eyebrows, for one thing, are placed by nature in a natural arch above the eyes. They serve with a dual purpose—to give expression to the face and to protect the eyes from glare. The moment Milady alters the shape of her brows, she not only contorts her whole expression but runs the risk of subjecting her eyes to unnatural strain and thus weakening them.

If you'd be a prudent Priscilla, use your eyebrow tweezers merely to tailor and to remove the few stray hairs. Then, with the eyebrow pencil, give the brows colour and definition with lightly pencilled strokes subtly blended.

Ann Dvorak's perfect eyebrows achieved with MAX FACTOR'S eyebrow pencil.

Every screen star strives for individuality. Therefore they all have their own colour harmony in Society Make-up.

SHAMLESS LIAR

JUDGE'S COMMENT IN NULLITY SUIT

WEAK, HARMLESS HUSBAND

I judge her, after seeing her for a day, to be a liar of no common calibre. I am satisfied that her evidence was a tissue of falsehoods from beginning to end, and that she has shown herself to be a versatile, shameless, and practised liar.

These strong comments were made by Mr. Justice Langton in the London Divorce Court, in giving judgment dismissing a petition for nullity of marriage.

The comments were made regarding Mrs. Ethel Mabel Patricia Neal, of the Army and Navy Hotel, Queen's Gate, London, who petitioned against Mr. George Neal, a building contractor, of Park Lodge, St. John's Wood, alleging the non-consummation of the marriage through his incapacity.

The case revealed a married life of ten weeks between a woman of 31 and a man of 73.

The ceremony of marriage took place on November 30, 1933, at Marylebone Register Office, and there was a separation in February 1934.

On May 17, 1934, Mrs. Neal filed a petition for the restitution of conjugal rights, and the husband, by his answer, pleaded just cause for leaving his wife. That petition was dismissed on the wife's application.

By his answer to the nullity suit Mr. Neal denied his wife's allegations, and he, in turn, petitioned for a decree of judicial separation. His charges were denied by Mrs. Neal.

JUDGE'S DECISION

Mr. Justice Langton, giving judgment, said that Mrs. Neal was a woman of Irish extraction, and was now 31. She was trained as a nurse. For several years she was in close and constant attendance upon the late Sir Henry Randall, who died at an advanced age leaving some rather singular provisions in favour of Mrs. Neal in his will. Mr. Neal had amassed a considerable fortune as a contractor.

When they were married Mr. Neal gave his age correctly as 73. Mrs. Neal gave her age as 26, whereas her real age was 31.

At Holy Trinity Cathedral, Shanghai, recently, Miss Dorothée Mary Chisholm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Stanley Chisholm, well-known Shanghai residents, became the bride of Mr. Stanley Duff of the China Navigation Co.

After ten weeks Mr. Neal went from the flat in which they were living in London, leaving a letter in which he said that he could not stand the strain of married life and that she had made married life between them quite impossible.

The Judge said that Mrs. Neal appeared to be a completely and utterly unreliable witness. "She has admitted falsifying public documents, two passports, and an entry in a marriage certificate. Two of them were with regard to her age, and one must feel towards her that she was a woman who was endeavouring to preserve the legend of her age."

Some of the statements by Mrs. Neal were grossly and wildly untrue, while Mr. Neal was an honest and reliable witness.

In his Lordship's view the marriage had been consummated, and the petition of Mrs. Neal failed, and would be dismissed.

"I have been considering, in view of Mrs. Neal's flagrant perjury," added his Lordship, "whether I should send the papers in this case to the Public Prosecutor. I have decided that, so far as I am concerned, it is probably sufficient punishment for her to know that she is shamed before the world as a malicious liar, who has endeavoured to fasten on her weak, kindly, and harmless husband the burden of her own disreputable conduct."

Mr. Norman Birkett, K.C., referring to the husband's petition for judicial separation, said this would stand out of the list, with liberty to restore. He hoped that an arrangement would be reached between the parties and that the Court would not be troubled any further with the matter.

The Jubilee Committee is not organising any large scale treat for school children, though it has secured, through the kindness of the Military Authorities, a small but desirable reservation of space where selected parties of school children will be able to see the Review on May 7.

The schools themselves, however, are taking various steps to mark the occasion. For example, one rural school is erecting a triumphal arch.

A group of six is co-operating in a torch-light procession. An English Junior School is entertaining the local vernacular school to tea and games on the school premises. A district school is attending a special Cinema show.

Many will, no doubt, "watch in" at the fireworks display; and few will fail, on one day or other, to secure a view of the Chinese procession.

11 a.m.—Chinese procession to take the following route:

Starting from Belcher Street, then along the Praya to the "Ta Yuen Restaurant"; then to the back of the (old) No. 2 Police Station; then to the (old) No. 1 Police Station; then to Caroline Hill Road and the Tramway; then to the West to Yee Wo Street, passing the Lee Garden, and then to the old City Hall; then to Des Voeux Road; then to the Praya at Wing Lok Wharf; and then along the Praya to Catchick Street, where the procession will be dispersed.

4 p.m.—"Jamborally" of Scouts and Guides at Happy Valley.

7 p.m.—Chinese lantern procession which will take the following route:

From the starting point at West Point, Catchick Street; then to the (old) No. 2 Police Station; then to the (old) No. 1 Police Station; then to Caroline Hill Road and the Tramway; then to the West to Yee Wo Street, passing the Lee Garden, and then to the old City Hall; then to Des Voeux Road; then to the Praya at Wing Lok Wharf; and then along the Praya to Catchick Street, where the procession will be dispersed.

Sunday, May 12.

Morning Services in all churches and places of worship.

Dollar Subscriptions

It is announced that the "Dollar Subscription" will be devoted to Hongkong charities, which will be nominated by His Majesty the King.

Subscription lists have been sent to all firms and offices in Hongkong and will be recalled on May 1.

The amount collected will be announced before Jubilee Day.

School-Children's Part

His Excellency the Governor is issuing a Jubilee address (printed in English and Chinese), to the children of Hongkong and this will be read at each school to the assembled pupils by the master or mistress-in-charge on the morning of May 6.

At the same time a medal, bearing the heads of King George and Queen Mary, will be issued to each pupil as a souvenir of the occasion.

The following day May 7 is also being celebrated as a holiday in Government schools, and no doubt other schools will largely conform to this arrangement.

In common with the general public, the schools are invited to do their part in decorating and illuminating the school premises; and doubtless London, April 18.

The fusing of an electric main in Oxford Street yesterday after-

of the lighting and power systems

Several minor explosions were caused and manhole covers dislodged. Some pedestrians had narrow escapes but nobody was injured. Twenty detachments of the Fire Brigade were called out to deal with small outbreaks of fire but they were soon extinguished.—British Wireless.

THEFT OF GOLD AT CROYDON.

King's Cross at 4 a.m. on March 6.

Manson said he might have said that, but he was very doubtful, at the time.

The Magistrate's Clerk—Did you say it?—No.

Mr. Brooks again asked whether Manson made that part of the statement, and this time Manson said that he did say it.

Mr. Brooks—It was true, was it not?—I was very doubtful.

"I TOOK FOUR MEN"
Mr. Brooks—Did you go on to say: "I took four men to Purley Way?"—All I know is that I took four men to Purley Way.

Mr. Brooks then read from the statement: "... and about 20 minutes later that same morning he came back and got into my cab."

Manson—I don't remember saying that.

Mr. Brooks—Did you then say this: "... and I drove him with two others to 3, Pemberton Road, Harringay?"—I am not quite sure if I said it or not.

And did you go on to say: "I have no doubt whatever in my mind that he is the man?"—No, I did say I was very doubtful.

Manson said that a man he saw on March 6 resembled O'Brien. He denied having said that there was no possible doubt as to the identity. He did not protest when the statement was read over to him, but was very doubtful and still was. He told the officer he was "very doubtful about the old gentleman" (O'Brien).

Mr. Davis (defending Mazzarda and O'Brien) said that he was not concerned with what Manson had said in statements but with what he had said on oath, and that was that neither Mazzarda nor O'Brien was there that night. Later he would have a submission to make to the Bench in view of Manson's evidence.

Detective-sergeant Wyman said that he took two statements from Manson which he read over and which Manson signed. Manson made no protest whatever.

Alfred George King, of Thorneloe Gardens, Waddon, stated that on March 6 when cycling to work he passed a taxi cab in Purley Way. Later the taxi cab overtook him. In front of it there was a car which had a dirty hood and a dirty greenish body.

GOLD GONE.
Evidence in regard to the transfer of the keys of the bullion room on the night of March 6 was given by witnesses employed by Imperial Airways. George Ashton, export clerk, who said he received the keys at about 7.30 a.m. on March 6, stated: "I opened the outer door of the bullion room and then found that the key for the inner door would not turn in the lock. The door was already unlocked and inside I saw an empty barrow."

Detective-sergeant Herbert Cory, stationed at Harlesden, identified Mazzarda as a man he knew

BACKACHE NOT DUE TO AGE

Many people think that backache is a trouble that comes naturally with advancing years, but this woman of 71 proves that it is not.

"I suffered for a long time from backache," she writes, "but put it down to my age (71). Reading your announcement, I thought I would try Kruschen Salts. I have been taking it for some time and have found great relief. I thought you would like to know it has done me a world of good."

(Mrs.) E. L.

If you want swift relief from the torture of backache—if you want to end kidney trouble for all time—put the six vital salts of Kruschen into your blood. The principle is this:—

Kruschen Salts starts your kidneys functioning again as Nature intended they should. Poisons that have been allowed to accumulate in your system are promptly expelled. When these poisons go, those agonising aches and pains have to go too! And if you continue with the "little daily dose"—keep your kidneys up to a proper performance of their duty—there'll be no likelihood of any such poisons ever accumulating again.

as Shonk. He had known him 14 or 15 years. On March 8 they had a conversation at Harlesden. Mazzarda seemed agitated, but he was always a nervous type of man. After a few moments Mazzarda said: "Do you know if the man they have got for the gold job has come yet?" The sergeant explained that at that time a man had been detained in connexion with the theft, and continued that Mazzarda added: "If he does and mentions other people is that evidence against them?" He replied: "It depends entirely upon circumstances."

Detective-Inspector Dance, of New Scotland Yard, stated that when on March 12 he called Mazzarda out of a Soho cafe, and told him he would be detained, Mazzarda replied: "All right, you have got your job to do. I shan't say anything now."

DISCOVERIES AT HARRINGAY
Divisional Detective-Inspector Widdocks said that with Chief Inspector Duncan he saw Swanland at a house in Pemberton Road, Harringay, on March 7 and asked him his name and means of livelihood. He replied: "Swanland, I am a black and white artist."

They left, but returned later, and he then told Swanland that he was going to detain him on suspicion of being concerned with others in stealing the gold, adding: "We have found that the parcels were brought here yesterday morning and taken from a car by you, and later in the day removed."

"I cautioned him, and he laughed, and said: 'Perfectly ridiculous. I have been reading about it during the day. If you think there is any gold here you are quite at liberty to search.' Mr.

Duncan said: "That is just what we intend to do."

On the dining room table they found a newspaper open with pencil marks on it and an Imperial Airways time-table. In the pocket of a jacket in a bedroom they found a key, which had wards at each end.

Mr. Hollier.—We are told that it does not open a door. If it does not it is not material.

The Clerk.—Anything is material evidence if it is found on a man.

The Inspector said that scattered over the bedroom floor he found 19 nailheads, a piece of metal band, portion of a seal, and two nails. In a refuse pile in the scullery there were five burnt seals bearing the name Japhet and Co., Limited, one piece of string, 12 burnt nails, and a quantity of charred wood. In the house they also found a portion of plasticine, a box of plasticine, a piece of paper relating to "Kilos," and another piece of paper bearing the name and address of the wife of an Imperial Airways pilot who lived about three-quarters of a mile from the aerodrome. The house was to be let about a month ago. When told he would be charged, Swannland said: "Very well, I am saying nothing."

WOULD NOT OPEN DOOR

Inspector Widdocks said the key fitted the keyhole of the inner door of the bullion room, but although it turned some of the levers of the lock it would not open the door. On March 20 he told Mazzarda

A sum of over $2,000 was raised in Shanghai by ladies selling "tags" on behalf of the funds of the Foreign Women's Home and Hostel. Pictures show sellers in the streets.

that he answered the description of a man whom the police wished to interview, and Mazzarda replied: "I know nothing about it. The best thing you can do is to let me be identified." He was placed for identification with 10 other men and immediately identified by the witness Manson, who picked out Mazzarda without any hesitation whatever.

Giving evidence of the arrest of O'Brien on March 12, Inspector Widdocks said that at Croydon he gave the name of John O'Brien, aged 80, a dealer, of no fixed abode, and was identified by Manson. Afterwards O'Brien gave his age as 74. He made no reply to the actual charge.

This concluded the case for the prosecution, and Mr. Davis submitted that there was not sufficient evidence against O'Brien to send him for trial. The only evidence against O'Brien was the evidence of a man whom the Bench had allowed to be treated as hostile and who was obviously an unreliable witness.

The Clerk.—You should say: "The chief evidence against him," because there is also the evidence that he picked out O'Brien.

Mr. Davis also submitted that the position was similar in regard to Mazzarda, and that there was no evidence on which a jury could convict.

Plaintiffs of "Not Guilty" on behalf of all three men, who reserved their defence, were entered, and they were committed for trial at Croydon Quarter Sessions on April 26.

The police objected to bail, and the Bench declined to grant it in any case.

THE LEAGUE AND GERMANY

By a unanimous vote, Denmark only abstaining from recording its view, the League of Nations Council has expressed its condemnation of Germany's infringement of the terms of the Versailles Treaty. It is difficult to see, in the circumstances, what other action it could take. Germany is angered at having been specifically indicted, but she surely cannot take exception to the main grounds on which the condemnatory resolution was based. These were (1) that scrupulous regard for all treaty obligations is a fundamental principle of international life, being an essential condition of the maintenance of peace; and (2) that it is an essential principle of the law of nations that no nation has power to liberate itself from the engagements of a treaty, nor to modify its stipulations, except by consent of the other contracting parties. The whole structure of international law rests on these bases. Inasmuch as Germany has admittedly infringed the military clauses of the Versailles Treaty, she has, in the words of the resolution, introduced a new and disturbing element into the international situation—one which could not possibly pass unnoticed. The whole point is that no nation has the right to be a law unto itself. Conceding that Germany had a genuine grievance, there were right and wrong methods of getting it remedied; she took the wrong method, and is therefore rightly adjudged to be at fault. Her action might conceivably have been condoned had there been no disposition on the part of the other Powers to make concessions in her favour. Actually, the Powers had long since indicated a willingness to revise the terms of the Versailles Treaty—a circumstance which rendered the German action not only unnecessary, but unjustifiable. It is worthy of emphasis, however, that the Powers have in no sense sought to ostracise Germany, but are still anxious that she should, as Mr. Ramsay

NOTES OF THE DAY

NEW FEAR

"Statesmen and people," says the Christian Science Monitor, "to-day are calculating frankly on the devastating bombardment of their capitals, and their homes, by enemy air fleets swooping down from above the clouds before there has even been a declaration of war. The rapid development of war planes has put the political and economic hearts of many countries within minutes of potential enemy bases." That was the situation which lay behind the attempt of France and Great Britain when they attempted, in February, to set up an "Air Locarno" and bring within the scope of the proposed agreement all the European powers, including Germany. That was the position when, a few days after the Franco-British suggestion went to Berlin, Germany announced her intention of rearming and admitted, at the same time, that rearmament, at least to a certain extent, had been accomplished. All of this is ancient history now, following the Stresa conference, the League Council's resolution of condemnation of the German policy and the announcement of plans for a conference of nations in Rome. But these two points must not be forgotten when the position in Europe is considered at any future time. No matter what justice there may be in the German claim that the other signatories had not adhered to the letter of their contracts in the Versailles Treaty, no matter how it is argued that by its rebuke to Berlin the League Council has complicated the European situation, it must be remembered that France and Britain, with the sympathetic support of other nations, had on February 3 formulated a scheme which would have gone far towards assuring the world of continued security by binding nations in an "Air Locarno." And on the very eve of the extension of this proposal, Germany announced she would rearm.

INTO THE FIRE

But if Germany hoped to better her position by this move, if she truthfully believed that her security was threatened and that her only means of securing adequate safety was the mobilising of a powerful land force, it is to be feared she blundered badly. Germany's rearmament galvanised into feverish activity her neighbour powers. France hastened to increase her defences on the land and in the air, and extended a hand to Russia. If the encirclement, which Germany avowedly feared before February, was a menace before to the Reich, it is increasingly dangerous to-day. France and Russia, whose fighting forces at the moment are unquestionably the greatest in the world, have formed an alliance which requires only the signatures of their respective Governments to make it binding. If it is not already, furthermore, added to the suspicions which her earlier acts had aroused in the Soviet Government, Germany's attitude to Versailles and armaments has crystallised the belief in Russia that she is intent upon avenging her defeat of 1918 and bent upon extending her sphere of influence by conquest. M. Maxim Litvinoff, the Russian Foreign Commissar, who is not the sort of man to make charges without some evidence to back them, has bluntly declared that these are the motives underlying Germany's latest activities. Russia is naturally apprehensive; she is not sure, if Germany intends to strike a blow, in which direction it will be aimed. That, in all probability, is the reason for the welcome accorded the French suggestion that a defensive treaty be arranged. In this light it would appear that the German diplomacy, or lack of it, has landed the country in a hotter place than the proverbial frying pan.

MacDonald expressed it; make an adequate contribution towards the building up of mutual trust and confidence. Such co-operation would obviously be to the interest of Germany, as well as to that of the European nations in general. The fact is that Europe is at the cross-roads and must face up to cardinal principles. Security can only be achieved by collective guarantee. Experience has shown that it cannot be safely entrusted to national armaments, however powerful they may be. Two facts stand out clearly. Competitive armaments are the instruments of international anarchy, which is the parent of war. The collective peace system is the best instrument for pooled security, and can become the parent of disarmament. It is for Germany and the other European nations to co-operate in a recognition of these points. Only by such means can there be any real assurance of the preservation of peace.

Our King and Queen on their Silver Jubilee

Duchess of York, Edward, Albert and Mary.

Though her official duties as Duchess of York exacted a great deal of time, Queen Mary never permitted herself to slacken for a moment her untiring interest in her home and family.

When the above picture was taken in 1899, the Duke and Duchess, who were soon to be King and Queen, had three children. The picture shows the Duchess with Edward, Albert and Princess Mary.

One does not need to look twice to see the resemblance between the lad standing at the back and the Prince of Wales as we know him to-day.

Queen Mary lavished every possible attention on her children; there is no doubt that she many times would have preferred to stay at home with them when official engagements called. But she was not one to forget her duties, and much as both she and her husband cherished their children, they nevertheless paid first attention to the demands made upon them by their station in life. Popular everywhere, leader of British society, travelling "ambassadors," they were given all too little time to think of their home life.

In the year this picture was taken (1899) the Duke and Duchess of York made a tour of Ireland. The following year, Prince Henry, now the Duke of Gloucester, was born. In 1901, Queen Victoria died, and in the same year the couple visited many parts of the empire, including Canada, as the Duke and Duchess of York. Later in the year, the Duke was invested as Prince of Wales, Duke of Cornwall, Duke of Rothesay, Earl of Carrick and Baron of Renfrew.

Surely the life of royalty is anything but a peaceful one! (Monday: King Edward, the Duke of York and Prince Edward.)

COLONY TRADE PROBLEMS

Economic Commission Report

Among the papers laid on the table at the meeting of the Legislative Council was the Report of the Commission appointed by H.E. the Governor to enquire into the causes and effects of the present trade depression in Hongkong, and make recommendations for their amelioration, and for improvement of the trade of the Colony.

The Report, which is dated February 10, 1935, is signed by Messrs. J. Breen (Chairman), A. Breen, Mr. A. Joseph, G. Gordon Mackie, Stanley H. Dodwell, V. M. Grayburn, G. C. Peihun, T. N. Chau, L. Koon-chun, and W. N. Tann. It is pointed out that the personnel of the Commission was larger than of any other such body appointed in the Colony within recent years, consisting of two official and ten unofficial members. Mention is made of the fact that of these unofficial members, Mr. J. D. Lloyd, died, and Mr. W. H. P. Thomas and Mr. W. J. Kewick left the Colony; Mr. A. Breen being appointed to succeed Mr. Thomas.

The first chapter of the Report is a preliminary survey of the work of the Commission; and then follows a general summary of the question of trade in the Colony. The chapters following deal with specific aspects and recommendations.

The chief recommendations and comments of the Commission may be summarized as follows: The Hongkong Trade Statistics are far from satisfactory. It is not possible to draw positive conclusions from the figures available for the reason that they are figures of enterprise and there is no indication what percentage relates to local consumption, or to manufacture in the Colony.

The Commissioners surveyed local industries and came to the conclusion that they have a definite future and their development should be encouraged.

The Colony possesses an attraction as a residential centre and holiday resort which might be improved so as to encourage visitors and induce them to prolong their stay.

There is a distinct possibility of the adoption of improved methods of cultivation and schemes of land reclamation with Government support, which would tend to render the community less dependent on outside sources of food supply.

The fishing industry, a further potential source of wealth, should be fostered and developed along improved lines.

The free port status of Hongkong is essential to the entrepot trade which is the foundation of the Colony's position as the clearing house of South China.

Co-operation with China

It may well be possible to conclude a working agreement with China which will be mutually satisfactory to both parties.

There may well be scope for a permanent body to foster trade and industry and to act as a connecting link between commercial and industrial interests and the Government.

Local taxation and burdens on the trading community should not be unduly increased, and public utilities should be afforded all possible encouragement and liberal treatment.

As regards Hongkong's co-operation with China, it is recommended that smuggling be combated to the fullest extent possible; that the Colony should be prepared to co-operate actively with the Chinese authorities in safeguarding Customs revenue, in return for preferential treatment from China in respect of goods manufactured in Hongkong.

As regards the fostering of local industries, it is pointed out that un-economic industries should not be subsidised, and the authorities should proceed warily in this direction.

As for currency problems, the Commission are of opinion that any over valuation of the local dollar is a defect of the monetary system which is unavoidable in existing conditions in China, and they have every confidence that the control maintained over it in recent years will not be relaxed.

It is recommended that, as regards water supply, a separate water meter to each floor of a Chinese tenement house should be supplied at the expressed request of either landlord or tenant, subject to the payment of a suitable cash deposit.

Air Links Urged
No time should be lost by the authorities in conjunction with British air interests in connecting Hongkong by air to the air routes already established.

Towards the encouragement of tourist traffic, it is recommended that the licensing hours applicable to hotels, restaurants, and Chinese theatres should be extended to 2 a.m. The major recommendation is for a Travel Association, the Government co-operating with all who are interested, including hotels, shipping companies, retailers, and others. Another means of giving publicity to the Colony which is strongly urged is the use of a short-wave wireless broadcast of local amenities and attractions.

THEFT OF GOLD AT CROYDON

THREE MEN SENT FOR TRIAL

A HOSTILE
WITNESS

The three men who have been arrested on the charge of being concerned in the theft of gold from the strong-room at Croydon Aerodrome on the night of March 5-6 were before the magistrates at Croydon Police Court recently.

The defendants were Cecil Swanland, 47, artist, no fixed abode, but stated at the last hearing to have had rooms at 3, Pemberton Road, Harringay; Silvio Mazzarda, 38, commission agent, of Vine Street, Clerkenwell Road, E.C.; and John O'Brien, 74, dealer, no fixed abode.

The men were each charged with being concerned with others in breaking and entering the bullion room at Croydon Aerodrome between March 5 and 6 and stealing three boxes containing three bars of gold, 5,000 U.S.A. gold coins, and 6,800 sovereigns, the whole valued at £21,000, the property of Machinery and Technical Transport, Limited, South Street, E.C.

Mr. Graham Brooks appeared for the prosecution; Swanland was represented by Mr. R. C. M. Mellier, solicitor, and Mazzarda and O'Brien by Mr. J. Davis, solicitor.

When the hearing was resumed Mr. Graham Brooks stated that it might have appeared from his opening statement last week that there was only one man on duty at the aerodrome. That was so, so far as the staff of Imperial Airways was concerned, but the Air Ministry had patrols on duty at night, and there were two men appointed by the Air Ministry on duty that night.

HOSTILE WITNESS

The taxi driver, Manson, who is stated by the prosecution to have driven four men from King's Cross to Croydon, on the night in question and three of them and certain boxes back to Harringay, was then recalled. At the last hearing Mr. Graham Brooks was given permission to treat Manson as a hostile witness.

Replying to Mr. Brooks, Manson said that after attending an identification parade on March 12 he made and signed a statement, but he could not remember if it was read over to him. He was allowed to read over the statement to refresh his memory.

Asked if he had stated that a man whom he knew as Shonk was one who drove a small car up to his cab at Croydon, Manson said: "I don't think it was so. I don't remember saying it." Further questioned about sentences in the statement, Manson said he could not remember what he did say or sign.

Manson said that when he was asked to pick out Shonk he was not in such a state that he did not know what he was doing. He denied having said that Shonk was one of the four men he drove from King's Cross to Croydon. He was simply asked if he knew a man named Shonk, and said he did.

Mr. Brooks—Is the position this:—That you knew what you were doing in part of the statement, but you did not know what you were doing when you made other parts?

Manson's reply was inaudible. Mr. Brooks—On March 13 you attended another identification parade and you picked out the man O'Brien. After that parade was over did you make another statement in writing, and is that your signature?

Manson examined the statement and said that the signature was his and the statement was read over to him before he signed it.

Mr. Brooks then read the statement, starting at the point: "I immediately identified from among them a man who was one of the four I picked up in my cab at Croydon."

DEAD MAN LIVES

HEART STOPPED FOR FIFTEEN MINUTES

MARVELS OF MEDICINE

After lying on an operating table for 15 minutes, with neither heart nor lungs working, Vincent Harrington of New South Wales was restored to life. His respiration and heart beats had stopped while ether was being given for a minor operation, caused. It was discovered later, by fatty tissue round the heart.

Doctor and nurse worked with feverish haste to restore him to life. Injections of strychnine were made, and adrenalin was injected into the cavity of the heart. Holding the patient's tongue out with forceps, the doctor worked swiftly resuscitating one arm, while the matron worked on the other arm, forcing the blood to flow and the lungs to inhale. By that time, Harrington's face had turned blue, but with the first faint flow and ebb of blood his ears became pink and colour slowly returned to his face. Then he recovered.

Another medical feat is recorded from Sydney. To clear a large clot of blood from the brain of a patient, a piece of the skull was removed and replaced by seven small pieces from the ribs.

SYDNEY BORES FOR GAS

HOPES TO TAP BIG RESERVOIR

All eyes are on the experimental operations which have begun on the banks of the Nepean River, New South Wales, on a site known as the Mulgon dome. Two or three thousand feet below, scientists believe there lies hidden enough natural gas to supply Sydney and the greater part of the metropolitan area.

Business men have found the capital and practical results will be known as soon as the bore has been put down to the gaseous section of the coal measures. The drilling superintendent is Mr. McKillop, a Canadian, who was for some years with the Anglo-Persian Oil Company and actually drilled the discovery well which led to the oil developments in Mesopotamia. The site was chosen by Mr. Dale Condit, of the Columbia University, who was with the United States geological survey for some years. Its geological formation is similar to successful bores in other parts of the world.

The TIME TEST and

'ASPRO'

THE old idea that a dozen medicines were needed for a dozen complaints—that laying up for indefinite periods was necessary—that it was also necessary to take dangerous drugs and narcotics—was an illusion. 'ASPRO' has dispelled it. For it is the medicine that takes the place of a dozen medicines, because, after ingestion in the system, it is an internal antiseptic—an anti-pyretic or fever reducer—an anti-periodic—a powerful germicide, and a solvent of Uric Acid, and, therefore, banishes the causes of numerous complaints. That's why 'ASPRO' banishes headaches in five minutes. It's the time test for quick action, and it stands the test of time. 'ASPRO' soothes the irritable—brings sweet sleep to the sleepless—relieves rheumatism in one night—smashes colds and influenza at inception. Furthermore, 'ASPRO' does not harm the heart or the stomach. It can be taken by all, from child to parent, anywhere, any time. The price is within the reach of all.

'ASPRO' Hunts Out Neuralgia and Rheumatism

145 Nicholson Street, Pittsford, N.Y.
Dear Sir,
It gives me great pleasure to pen these lines of appreciation for the wonderful benefit I have derived through taking your 'ASPRO' Tablets. I have been for some time a martyr to NEURALGIA and RHEUMATISM, and have tried various remedies, but without any beneficial results. I was advised by a friend to try 'ASPRO', which advice I took, with remarkable results. After taking six tablets, my Neuralgia disappeared. I continued taking two after every meal, and can now thankfully say that I am free from any pain, either Rheumatic or Neuralgic. You will, therefore, quite understand the pleasure I derive in recommending such a wonderfully simple medicine to other sufferers.

Yours faithfully,
(Sd) FRANK AUSTIN

H. K.—SHANGHAI INTERPORT BADMINTON VISION

FUTURE DEVELOPMENT OF THE GAME

POSSIBILITIES EMPHASISED AT SEASON'S WIND-UP

PRESENTATION OF LEAGUE TROPHIES

(By "Veritas")

That the rapid development of badminton in Hongkong was assured and that Interport matches with Shanghai in the near future were now in the realm of probability was emphasised at the Presentation Night to wind up the badminton season held at Tai Koo Recreation Club on Thursday.

Mr. S. A. Gray (Hon. Secretary) in a brief review of the first season of league badminton under the auspices of the Hongkong Badminton Association said that without unduly putting themselves on the back they could regard the season as being highly successful. Practically all of this was due to the enthusiasm and co-operation of the clubs. They had not been driven by the Association for there had been no necessity to drive them, but they had all shown extraordinary keenness.

Mr. Gray apologised for the unavoidable absence of the President (Rev. J. H. Higgs), and Mrs. Higgs, and also of Mr. E. M. Raymond (Hon. Vice-President) and Mrs. Raymond, the trophies in place of Mr. Higgs, but she had been taken ill. Fortunately Mrs. Stewart, wife of the Tai Koo Club, chairman of the Presentation Night, had come forward at the last minute and consented to perform this task and they were all grateful to her.

GENEROUS DONORS

He also expressed the appreciation of the Association for the kindness of those who had presented trophies. The challenge cup for the Men's "A" Division had been given by Messrs. A. G. Spalding, Brothers, while the challenge shield for the Men's "B" Division had been offered by Messrs. G. S. Brothers, Messrs. Dunlop, Rubber Co., had given the challenge cup for the Mixed Doubles, while the President's challenge cup for the Ladies' Division had been donated by Rev. J. H. Higgs. They also owed a debt of gratitude to Mr. E. M. Raymond for presenting the silver spoons to the winning teams.

The trophies were then handed to the winning clubs by Mrs. Stewart, the champions being: Men's "A" Division, Elin Hall; Men's "B" Division, Club de Recreo; Mixed Doubles, Club de Recreo; Ladies' Division, Club de Recreo.

A vote of thanks was proposed to Mrs. Stewart by Mr. Ezra Abraham (Hon. Vice-President), who said that the Association could regard this first season with satisfaction. They were also indebted to the Tai Koo Recreation Club, and on behalf of the Association, he wished to thank Mr. Stewart and the committee of the club for kindly putting the hall at their disposal.

Mr. Stewart in response said he gave Tai Koo R.C. real pleasure in offering their hall for that night's function and Tai Koo would always be willing to offer assistance to the Association. He thought Tai Koo should feel indebted to the clubs and players who had given such an entertaining display of badminton that evening.

CHAMPIONS SWEEP BOARD
There was a large attendance of enthusiasts who saw the champions in the two men's doubles and the mixed doubles carry off the honours against the "Rest." Some excellent badminton was witnessed in the senior men's games, but several of the players showed signs of nervousness in the "B" Division and Mixed

WELL DONE RICKETTS

PLAYS CLEVER TENNIS

TO ELIMINATE HO KA-LAU

(By "Veritas")

Not since the heydays of Honda has anybody stroled so placidly into the final of the Colony open singles tennis championship as did G. R. M. Ricketts, the Oxford Half Blue on Thursday.

Ho Ka-lau, the victim, certainly sent the match the full distance, but the Englishman should have finished things off in the fourth set, and indicated that he could have done by strolling through the concluding stages as though the whole show was a mere knock-out.

NO FIREWORKS

There were no fireworks in this match, but it did take a master-player to discover the skill behind Ricketts' apparently easy strokes. This was by far the best display Ricketts has yet given in Hongkong, and the vast improvement he has made in the course of twelve months stood out a mile.

The beauty of Ricketts' game was that, without very much effort, he was able to dictate practically throughout. Even when losing the first set, he beat back the first wave of the fourth set, he managed to pull out the best shots, and kept the sets chiefly because he experimented with drop shots over which he had not full control.

The contrast between the styles of the players was of especial interest. Ricketts, with his very short swing back to take the ball at its earliest point on the upward rise in forehand driving and his peculiar backhand by which he "volleys" many of the ball's fundamentals of production, stood out in bold relief to Ho Ka-lau's more orthodox long forehand swing and his rigid wrist on the backhand.

Yet it was Ricketts' shots which had the more pace and they were certainly more pleasant to the eye. Ho's strokes were hustling and contentious, whereas Ricketts' were comfortable and completely un-spectacular.

A year ago Ricketts was very weak in the forecourt. Against Ho Ka-lau, some of his best shots were on the volley; but his big advantage lay in his accuracy in finding the sidelines and his excellent length. He realised he had to wear Ho down and he accomplished this by keeping the ball moving from corner to corner. There were times when he was off the mark, but for the most part he controlled the ball so well that Ho was left standing by the clever placements.

PLENTY IN HAND

The only part of Ricketts' game not quite in keeping with the generally high standard of his work was over-head. It was puzzling to find a player of his great height ignoring this ball-moving device. He kept the ball with great effect, his favourite, and nearly always successful scheme, being to lure Ho Ka-lau up to the net on a half-length shot and then pass the Chinese from his own back court. He scored consistently in this manner. Even though, in his deceptively casual way, Ricketts made most of the running, he finished the match with plenty in hand, and it was this which convinced me that even against Ho Ka-lau, the final he will pull out some new stuff.

Once again Ho Ka-lau had his physical shortcomings exposed. He was able to finish off the first set quickly and completely outplayed in the second and third stanzas. It was patently obvious that not even a ten minutes rest would be enough to give Ho sufficient stamina to win two more sets.

As a matter of fact he made an extremely fine recovery in the fourth set, but it exhausted him and the final exchanges bordered on the farcical. We have seen Ho play much better than he did on Thursday; yet I think he played as well as the occasion permitted. He found himself against a man who had not only the better attacking strokes, but was steady enough to back them with delicate finishing shots. Furthermore, Ho did not mix his own shots well. He played a stereotyped type of game which presented no terrors.

Hawaiian Boxers Triumph

BEAT UP U.S. NAVY

(Special to "Telegraph")

Tientsin, April 19.
Hawaiian boxing champions were easy winners against the United States Navy champions here to-day in the first showing in North China between these ring stars.

Williams, the Hawaiian, knocked out Woods the British representative in the first minute of their fight, sending the Navy man cold to resin with a fierce uppercut.

Deitz, Hawaiian boxer, obtained a points decision over Hemming, who took extremely heavy punishment throughout. Kraft of Hawaii gained a similar verdict over Brunszoff, a Russian, making a whirlwind finish after a slow start.

In the semi-final Ange Lucid the Hawaiian won on points against Kucera, the Peiping Marine, who was floored in the fourth round. The Marine tried hard to rally but was overwhelmingly outpointed and out-fought.

The final was rather disappointing, the fight ending in the second round in favour of Jaworski the Hawaiian. Valloppes, his opponent, was knocked down and injured his knee, forcing him to retire.—United Press.

LAWN BOWLS NOTES

PREPARING GREENS DIFFICULTY

Clubs Hampered By Late Cricket Season

(By "Sage")

The transitional period between the winter and summer months in Hongkong where one branch of sport follows so closely upon the heels of another is more inconvenient to lawn bowlers than to adherents of any other game in the Colony. In a place like Hongkong where recreation areas are limited, the difficulty of transforming part of a cricket ground into a bowling green becomes a problem sometimes of even greater magnitude than many realise. Each year as the local cricket season draws to a close bowlers in many of the clubs must of necessity depend on the good graces of the cricketers for an early start and in some cases this is not possible.

During the past few years lawn bowls has developed enormously in popularity in Hongkong and consequently upon the increased number of persons indulging in the game and its resultant increase in the number of the various clubs taking part in the Leagues, it has been found expedient to make a start earlier than in former years so that the encroachment of one game upon another has not become more serious than previously.

The one cricketing club which has discovered this disadvantage more pronounced than have probably any of the others this season is the Civil Service C. C., whose bowling green has never been in the same condition of perfection as are those greens which are not reconverted into cricket grounds each year.

Immediately the cricket season closed this season it was found necessary to return parts of the Civil Service C. C. green so that in its present state it is not ready for practice with the result that members are forced to indulge in their daily "roll ups" on an improvised green on another part of the ground, a patch which has received no special preparation beyond being rolled and the grass mowed.

ALL PLAYERS AVAILABLE

It is doubted whether the returned players of the Civil Service C. C. green will be ready for the first few weeks of the season but the other half which has not been re-conditioned will be available for immediate use. Jointly third last season the Civil Service C. C. like all other clubs, are hoping to improve upon their performances of the previous season. They will field practically the same team that secured for them 10 points in as many engagements in the months ago. They have all their more prominent bowlers available, including A. W. Grimmett, that record breaking champion, J. Deakin and F. J. Jones who skipped the three rinks last season. They will, however, be without J. Hollidge this season.

From their second team a conspicuous absentee will be L. Luck who will most probably be called upon to represent Hongkong at Wanchien in the official rink for the Esplan Cup. He leaves shortly after the commencement of the season and may be seen in the opening matches.

Although they also won eight of their matches last year, the Club de Recreo were placed below the Civil Service C. C. on shots average. Since they first took up the game the Portuguese players have shown more keenness than have quite a number of other clubs and without having to await the termination of the cricket season to recondition their green, they have been hard at practice for the past month and are eagerly anticipating another successful season.

After R. F. Luz left them last season the side was greatly weakened but a little reshuffling wrought the desired effects and they were able to maintain the same high standard of previous years. They will have completely settled down to their newly composed side by now and this season, with last year's players all available, they should remain one of the leading clubs in the league.

TAIKOO'S RELEGATIONS

Going further down last year's final league table one comes upon Tai Koo R. C., who finished with seven victories to their credit, and one cannot but sympathise with them in their relegation to their own request, to the Second Division. Next to the Kowloon Bowling Green Club, the Tai Koo R. C. are the oldest bowling club extant in the Colony to-day. The Quarry Bay Club has a record of which they can justifiably feel proud. Since the inauguration of the League in 1910 they have won the championship on more occasions than any other club. Their first success was in 1913 after the Police R. C. had three times gained the title. For six consecutive years (except for one) they have won the title. (Continued on Page 9.)

Yesterday's Local League Football

GUNNERS' DRAW WITH NAVY

The Navy were all but beaten by the Artillery when the teams met in a first division league football match yesterday, the game finally ending in a draw of two goals apiece. Twice the Gunners held the lead, and the Navy did not obtain the equalising point until ten minutes from the close.

Knight put the Artillery in the lead early on the game, but Rose equalised before half time. After the change-over, the Gunners went ahead again through Gardner, but Cannell denied them victory by equalising a few minutes from Time.

SECOND DIVISION MATCH

The Navy second string easily defeated the Artillery in a second division game, winning by five goals to one. One of the outstanding incidents of the match was the fine save made by Hancock, the Artillery goalkeeper, from a penalty.

Gardner, one of the Gunners' backs gave the Navy the lead when he put through his own goal and Hancock made it two-nil before the interval. Rose reduced the arrears in the second half, but the Navy were well on top and goals came from Bonstead, Adams and O'Donnell.

CRICKET CLUBS UNDER REVIEW

HOW CIVIL SERVICE FARED

Season Reveals Sad Need Of New Blood

(By R. Abble)

The Civil Service was once again very weak and sadly need some new blood to give the side a fillip. They won one, drew two and lost five League games, and won two, lost eight, and drew five in all.

Although the result of the season's matches makes very dismal reading, several of the Civil Service defeats were occasioned only after close games.

That against the Club de Recreo in the League was brought about off the last ball of the game and after declaring in the friendly game against Craigengower they were beaten in the last over.

The season was rather a patchy one in more ways than one since they played 5 games without defeat at the beginning of the season which was followed by a run of four defeats. Blank Saturdays too caused a disjointed programme and lack of interest.

Although strengthened by the inclusion of Perry and Griffiths the batting of the side as a whole was again not dependable.

The usual opening batsmen, Sayer and Richardson, could not get going, and a reshuffling of the batting order brought no great reward.

The highest individual scores were a 79 not out versus the H.K.C.C. (friendly) and a 68 not out versus the Volunteers (friendly) by Richardson, and a 66 by Griffiths against the Royal Navy (friendly).

Perry and R. M. Wood both exceeded the half century the former making 51 not out versus the Army (friendly) and 52 versus the Volunteers and the latter scoring 56 against the University (League).

Sayer was the most consistent bat and in 13 innings only failed to reach double figures on three occasions; his highest score, however, was only 37.

In the bowling Baker and Perry shared the brunt of the attack, the former getting 29 wickets at an average cost of 16.31 and the latter 26 wickets at a cost of 18.58 each. Sayer obtained 15 wickets for 19.13 apiece but Richardson was very expensive for his 14 wickets cost 34.29 each.

The outstanding bowling programme was Perry's eight for 63 versus the University (League), when he bowled better than he has ever done before in the Colony, whilst Sayer had six for 41 versus the Indian R.C. (League) and Baker five for 48 versus the H.K.C.C. (friendly).

The fielding of the side was an improvement on that in past seasons, but there is still the same tendency to fail to stop in the positions in which the bowler has set his field—and also a lack of anticipation.

Fieldsmen should remember to keep a continuous eye on the Captain and the bowler in case either wishes to make an unobtrusive change in the position of the field without drawing the batsman's attention to it.

R. M. Wood kept wicket consistently throughout the season, his best bag being 1 stump and 4 c.t. versus the University (League).

Prospects for the 1935-36 season appear as it is anticipated that Griffiths and McCallan will be assisting the Club in all matches on their return from Leave towards the end of the year. The former will be a great help to the batting and the latter as an all rounder will be most useful.

The following figures rather tell a tale!

BATTING
	No. of	Inns.	N.O.	Runs.
J. E. Richardson	14	2	282	115.50
A. E. Griffiths	4	0	155	65.10
A. E. Perry	14	2	226	64.10.00
G. E. Sayer	13	0	235	37.18.08
R. M. Wood	14	0	170	36.00
J. Barker	13	1	135	30.11.25
H. M. Wood	12	0	110	55.9.17
H. G. Wellington	10	2	54	12.5.25
N. J. Bebbington	11	1	54	23.5.10
B. G. K. Hawkins	8	0	31	19.3.58

BOWLING
	O.	M.	R.	Avg.
A. E. Perry	163.4	27	473	29.18.31
A. E. Griffiths	127	12	483	26.18.58
J. E. Richardson	48.5	6	287	19.10.18
J. E. Richardson	58.5	6	450	14.34.29

In the fielding—where a larger percentage of catches were held than in the past two seasons, R. M. Wood caught ten and stumped five, Richardson caught seven, Perry six, Sayer, Baker and Griffiths four apiece, Whitley three, and Burrow and Bebbington two each.

I regret that I have no figures from the second eleven. When I last checked up, they had won one match and lost nine, but they got their matches finished and thoroughly enjoyed their cricket which, after all, is the main point.

Their season was noticeable for the considerable personal success of their skipper, Westlake who often made large and hard hit scores as well as being a useful, if variable, fast bowler.

What happens then is not said but, I really cannot conceive matters going so far.

I have mentioned this as it is a most interesting matter, but I fancy it applies only to First and Second Class County Cricket.

I am under the impression that these instructions are issued to Umpires who are officially placed on the M.C.C.'s list of Umpires, who preside over the type of cricket I have mentioned.

Of course, wherever possible, the umpires in Club Cricket follow both the Rules of Cricket and the supplementary instructions, which are particularly important in knotty points which do not come clearly under any particular law.

But I cannot think that any umpire, save one on the M.C.C. list, has a right to report a player to the M.C.C. even under the new rule. I speak subject to correction, but I believe that an official umpire has always had the right to report a cricketer to the M.C.C. for abusive behaviour on the field, or for a decision, subject possibly to a prior reference to the officer's Captain which produces no satisfaction.

I wonder if any of my readers can inform me of the actual facts.

As I say, I cannot imagine matters going to such a length, especially here. If I were umpiring and I thought that a bowler was trying this sort of attack on I should warn him first and ask his Captain to take him off if he did it again.

There is, to my mind, one great point to be made in connection with this. It is one of the games which you can go on playing when you are just your first year.

Few men play Rugby when they are past 35. A man can be a most valuable member of a club side for ten or fifteen years longer than that, but as he gets older, his age is not so quick and, though he must take his fair hazard in the game, it is not "cricket" to bowl at a man who is not physically equal to taking the full penalty if this form of attack is not accurate. I don't mean that I am

TO-DAY'S PROSPECTS AT THE VALLEY

PUNTERS HAVE A WIDE FIELD FOR SELECTION

OAK BAY'S CHANCE TO JUSTIFY HIS PROMOTION

(By "Capt. Foster")

The opening event of to-day's race meeting, The Canton Handicap, a "once round and in" affair for "B" Class, will see Helman run his first race since his demotion. Actually his last appearance was against nothing but "B" Class animals, but that was a "condition" race for non-winners, where he failed even to get a place, but the going was miles deep that day and he likes to hear his hoofs rattle.

Should Rose Queen accept here in preference to the St. George's Plate?

I think she will run very close. Ribble, also, I like (he did a very fast mile on Wednesday), but I don't fancy either of the "Soldier" or the other two Dynasty candidates. Macaroni does not appear to be ready yet; Bright View prefers it soft, yet; Brilliant Star has not been out for while year and I know nothing about him.

THE WUCHOW HANDICAP

One cannot but feel that if Soldier of Honour was sound and ran up to his appearance and name he could win this mile as he liked. As it is I think Mistake Bay will grab the big end of the purse. Admittedly he was beaten out of this place by Gold Coin at the 2nd Extra, but in that sea of mud anything might happen. Flit scored at the same meeting, but has an awful load to carry now for a smallish mare. Fly-by-Night did a nice canter last Saturday, and don't forget he ran fourth last time out—perhaps he is finding form. The rest of the field I do not fancy.

I hear Able Amazon is not starting in the New Bridge Handicap, which makes it a nice open race—so much so that the luck of the draw and the luck of the running will probably decide the result. I am told Rose Ann will also be a non-starter. I do not like Mount Pilatus or Cold Morning, but every other entry has a chance. I have a preference for Night Star, Got That and, Saucy Face—in this order.

THE FATSHAN HANDICAP

I see Daylight Eye back amongst the entries. Spinaway, Fanning winter, ran well in the recent hurdle event out there, while Lemberg ran splendidly in the Ladies cross-country race at the same meeting. But I am going to relegate this trio to the hunter class for the being, which is until I have seen them run against others of their class on the flat. I like Bistre at these weights; Jungle Jim has such a load and The Tiger must be old and weary (but by no means bust) by now. Valorous, I think, can place and I'm always a bit scared of Flying Tourist since that conditioning it in any case, but the fact remains that if the attack on the body is done unskillfully against a really good, quick-witted, quick-footed batsman, the bowler is going to get seven balls knocked out of him.

I have been reading a lot of old cricket books lately and there is no doubt that the old fast bowlers did attack the batsmen—but not with a packed leg field. But in Club Cricket there should not be the slightest suggestion of such a method of attack and to my mind the matter rests far more with the Captains of the various Clubs than with the Umpires.

NEXT WEEK

I hope to continue my review of the past season in my notes on Wednesday next, when I shall deal with University Cricket and possibly with I.R.C. I hope to hear soon from the H.K.C.C., K.C.C., and Craigengower—also the Police—(unprofessionally of course).

I might point out to Secretaries that, though I am no doubt an awful nuisance, some of their players like to have a note of the season in tabloid form so that they can cut it out for their press-books. I know I wish now I had kept cuttings etc. during all my cricketing days. It is when one gets near giving up the game that one likes to be able to turn up the records of the past.

She'll break your heart with happiness!

20, many of whom have little right, the final event has run into a place as far as one can see, to claim admission to the grass course except for the shafts of the roller. though the former ran some nice races with at least some pretensions for his owner-rider out at Fan-include Lion-Hunter, Bold Captain ling. Here again I can only recommend Beginner's Luck, but, while I mend a judicious eye in the pad- will not dare to suggest that the dock—there is no form to guide one: actual race will not be keenly contested. I cannot imagine it being a very inspiring spectacle.

BRITISH WATER PROBLEM

NO ANXIETY FOR SUMMER

London, April 18. During the debate on the adjournment of the House of Commons, the water problem, which caused considerable anxiety in some parts of Britain last summer was raised, and Opposition members protested against the inadequacy of the measures taken to prevent a recurrence.

For the Ministry of Health, Mr. Geoffrey Shakespear, replying, said that in reference to last year's experience the country had weathered the worst drought in British history without any real hardship in areas covered by 1,500 water undertakings. The drought, however, revealed certain directions in which the water supply was inadequate, and under emergency legislation 36 orders had been issued to deal with the situation in these areas.

The outlook for the future was, however, encouraging. A year ago, reservoirs were depleted. Now they were full. Yesterday a meeting of experts formed the opinion that, owing to the efficiency of the water supply, even if there was a dry summer, they could look forward without any apprehension of drought.—British Wireless.

SAFETY ON THE ROADS

NEW HIGHWAY CODE PREPARED

London, April 18. A new edition of the highway code, which has been revised in the light of recent legislation and regulations and is designed to make for greater safety on the roads, will come up for approval by Parliament soon after Easter.

The code lays down rules of conduct for all road-users, including pedestrians, and the Transport Minister is credited with the intention of bringing it to the notice of all householders by sending a copy to each by post.

The printing of the code is said to be the biggest task ever undertaken by the Government Stationery Office.—British Wireless.

ROYAL CHARITY

London, April 18. The Duchess of York and her daughter, Princess Elizabeth, attended the service at Westminster Abbey to-day, when, as is the custom on the Thursday before Easter Monday, money was distributed. It is one of the oldest royal charities.—British Wireless.

INQUIRY TREADS LIGHTLY

INVESTIGATORS AVOID FOREIGN TOES

U.S. LISTENS TO BRITAIN

Washington, April 18. Senator Nye, Chairman of the Senate Committee investigating the munitions trade, has announced that the members of the Committee agreed, after a conference at the White House with President Roosevelt and Mr. Cordell Hull, Secretary of State, "to avoid any action likely to raise complications with foreign Governments" in connection with the investigations of the war-time files of J. P. Morgan and Company.

It is understood that the investigators were summoned to the White House as the result of a hope informally expressed by the British Ambassador, Sir Ronald Lindsay, that when it was proposed to investigate the war-time correspondence of certain United States banks in connection with Allied purchases of munitions, the danger should be borne in mind of reviving long, obsolete controversies which might have an undesirable effect on the present international situation.

Senator Nye added that the Committee agreed to consult the State Department with regard to any correspondence, the publication of which might possibly cause embarrassment.

It is understood that President Roosevelt expressed neither disapproval nor approval of the arrangements, nor did he suggest that the activities of the Committee should be curtailed.—Reuter.

SECURITY FOR WORKERS

U.S. LEGISLATION PROGRESSES

Washington, April 19. The House of Representatives to-day passed the Administration's Social Security Bill which provides for a national system of unemployment insurance and old age pensions.

The cost of the legislation is estimated at £20,000,000 for the first year, and £40,000,000 for each succeeding year.

The Bill now goes to the Senate.—Reuter.

GOOD FRIDAY SERVICE

CHURCHES UNITE AT KOWLOON

A striking demonstration of Christian unity was given at the United Service of Christian Witness held on a vacant piece of ground opposite the Alhambra Theatre yesterday morning, the Rev. J. R. Higgs, Vicar of St. Andrew's taking charge.

A platform was erected for the clergy, behind whom stood three choirboys, one from St. Andrew's, one from the Kowloon Tong Anglican Church and one from the Church of All Saints, Homantin, each holding a crucifix, and a Chinese girl holding the flag of the Salvation Army.

The Rev. Mr. Higgs was assisted by the Rev. N. V. Halward, Rev. T. N. Tsang, Principal Huang and Adjutant C. Begley.

The service was bilingual and commenced with the hymn, "Rock of Ages," this being followed by Bible reading and prayer led by Mr. Huang, in Chinese, and the Rev. Mr. Halward, in English.

Following the singing of the hymn, "There is a green hill far away," an address in Chinese was given by the Rev. Mr. Tsang.

Another hymn, "When I survey the wondrous Cross" was then sung, at the conclusion of which Adjutant Begley spoke of the significance of Christ's death and the message the Cross brought to all mankind.

The address over, the hymn of praise, "All hail the power of Jesus' Name," was sung, after which the Vicar pronounced the Blessing.

"It has been a wonderful demonstration of Christian unity and I thank all our Chinese friends and Europeans for their support," said Mr. Higgs, before the gathering dispersed.

Pamphlets dealing with the message of the Cross, printed in both English and Chinese were distributed among the crowd.

The Choirs went back in procession to their respective Churches, preceded by a crucifix and followed by the clergy.
